

Field Security Seminar

Preparing faith-based workers to live & travel in dangerous environments

PRESENTED BY

"Your thorough and engaging knowledge of this topic is truly world-class." –FSS Participant

Participant Testimonials

"I want to express my deep appreciation for the professional and Christ-centered commitment of CCI."

"Words are not sufficient to express my personal appreciation and admiration for your ministry."

"During the course I soon realized the value in my participation. I'm now convinced we need to make sure our members are adequately prepared."

"VERY good course! We could tell that you have a lot of experience and we appreciate you connecting with the field work we are in."

"I would take another training from CCI. Great job!"

"I feel much better prepared for my trips into high risk areas."

"We want to thank you so much for the training. It was very professional and we learned a lot!"

REGISTER: www.cricon.org

QUESTIONS: info@cricon.org

:: The need

Faith-based humanitarian and aid workers, short-term church volunteers and all believers seeking to minister internationally are facing the dual threats of an increasingly unstable and dangerous world, and an alarming trend of targeting of Christians by terrorist groups.

Visit our website for dates and available discounts !

:: The course

Crisis Consulting International's Field Security Seminar is an intensive, 3-day course designed to prepare faith-based workers and volunteers to live, travel and work more safely in high-risk environments. Training is field-based and interactive, modeled after real-world events.

:: The trainers

The staff and trainers of CCI are committed believers, deeply involved in kingdom work both locally and globally. They individually and collectively possess an unmatched combination of professional training, expertise, and real-world 'on the ground' experience working with faith-based organizations around the globe.

:: The organization

For more than 25 years, CCI has been the premier provider of security and crisis management services to the Christian missionary, humanitarian and church sending communities. With an outstanding record of success, CCI assists these communities with kidnapping and hostage resolution, crisis response, risk and security assessments, site surveys, policy development and contingency planning, crisis management training and consultation, event security, and field security training.

"Rescue those being led away to death." –Proverbs

